300th Anniversary of the Coronation

To celebrate the 300th anniversary of Louis XV's coronation, de Venoge will launch in 2022 a new limited edition of its famous Louis XV 1996 in a special giftbox .

Louis XV was the monarch of the Age of Enlightenment. It was a time of prosperity in which France enjoyed great influence around the world and the King, open-minded and far-sighted, would play a major role in securing Champagne's destiny. With a decree dated May 25, 1728, he authorized wines from this region, and this region alone, to be sold and transported by the bottle rather than the barrel, giving wines from Champagne their unique bubbles. This decree, designed specifically to boost development and fine tune in-bottle second fermentation, was also the first to guarantee the origin and quality of wine from Champagne.

Champagne de Venoge had already acknowledged the major role the monarch played in Champagne's history by naming its rarest cuvée Louis XV. So, it was only natural to decide to celebrate the tri-centenary of Louis XV's coronation with a special limited edition of the Louis XV 1996.

The 1996 was the vintage of the century, with a perfect equilibrium between sugar, acidity and alcohol.

This cuvée has a subtle and voluptuous nose. On the palate, the wine reveals a paradox of flavours, fine but intense, underlined by an incandescent yellow gold color.

This Champagne's exceptional elegance will seduce connoisseurs of great Champagne.
